FRANKFORT, KY.

(For the Roundabout.) OLD TIMES IN FRANKFORT. NO. III.

Frankfort has never been specially subject to epidemics. This is probably due to the river that forms a great natural sewer, sweeping through the heart of the city, and to the precipitous natural drainage that flows into it, thus quickly carrying away the filth that otherwise would accumulate and decay.

In 1833, when the cholera was carrying death and dismay into the towns of Central Kentucky, this city was but lightly visited. A singular feature of the cholera scourge of that period was its freak attention [to Versailles]. While hundreds were taken sick and scores were dying at Paris, at Georgetown, at Winchester, at Harrodsburg, at Lancaster, and Old King Solomon was burying the accumulating corpses at Lexington, the town of Versailles was almost, if not entirely, exempt from the Asiatic plague of 1833. But in 1834, when the other towns were free from the scourge, the cholera suddenly broke out in Versailles, and more than fifty people died in two weeks.

Physicians came from Frankfort and from other towns to assist the plague-stricken people. What theory of medical science or sanitation can account for this strange phenomenon of epidemic disease? In this connection, we may state that Old King Solomon—the grave digger at Lexington, who gathered into the earth the bodies of the victims—was a bold and defiant refutation of the laws of sanitation. He was filthy in habit and in dress, habitually addicted to intoxicants, irregular and reckless in mode of life, and yet he strode about in the charnel-house of this fearful disease, handling the bodies in improvised coffins, with utter disregard of contamination, and with perfect immunity. We can almost imagine that there was a vein of cheerfulness in his thoughts, as he murmured, in measured tones, "I gather them in—I gather them in."

The smallpox has, on several occasions, visited Frankfort, but never in a serious way. Nothing like the condition of its entrance into Lexington in the center of 1833-4, when farmers ceased to come to town. No one got off the trains. There were no customers in the stores; no funerals. An ambulance would dash down the street, taking a coffin to the cemetery. Here and there, on the porch of a residence, a coffin was to be seen, awaiting its turn—yellow flags were visible at residences on every street, and the streets themselves were almost deserted. There was no shaking hands, and the morning salutation was the query "Well, who died last night?" Over 500 people died and were buried in about two months. We have had nothing like that in Frankfort. There have been fever and diphtheria, but the fatality has not been excessive.

The old home in which Frank Blair resided when he published the Commentator—the antecedent of the Frankfort Commonwealth newspaper—and which he revisited in after years, is still standing in Bellepoint, the property of Col. John N. Crutcher, the alcalde of that growing West End. On the occasion of his visit, the tears fell streaming from his eyes, as visions of memory and of youth came crowding back upon him.

But the old frame building, on the corner of Wilkinson and Wapping streets, that was used as a hotel by Gen. Wilkinson, was torn down over thirty years ago, and replaced by a modern dwelling. This structure was put together with wrought iron nails, brought over the mountains from Virginia on pack horses, and in it rooms Aaron Burr matured his conspiracy for a Southwestern empire, and from it he fled at the conclusion of his trial and acquittal for treason, before the U. S. District Judge in this city. A ball was given in the hotel that night in his honor, and the next night, after his escape became known, a similar ball was given to the U. S. District Attorney, who had prosecuted him.

Frankfort is not unused, even at this day, to such sudden changes of popular favor. A photograph was taken of the Wilkinson Hotel (or Love House, before it was torn down, copies of which are no doubt in the possession of some of our citizens.

The location of the hotel was probably due to the fact that the ferry, also owned by Wilkinson, crossed the river, from a point near by, to the mouth of Devil's Hollow Branch. S. R. S.

NOISY WELCOME.

Just at 12 o'clock, on Sunday night, the bell of the Episcopal Church and that in the fire department euphony rang out the old year and welcomed the new. The noise was augmented by the firing of pistols and fire crackers.

The hubbub lasted for about fifteen or twenty minutes, and waked up nearly everybody in the city.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

A pleasant surprise party may be given to your stomach and liver, by taking a medicine which will relieve their pain and discomfort, viz.: Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are a most wonderful remedy, affording sure relief and cure for headache, dizziness and constipation. 25c at all druggists.

WRECKED FREIGHT TRAIN DELAYS OTHER TRAINS.

A freight car left the track just this side of Jet's Station, on Sunday evening, in a cut, obstructing the track so that no train could pass until about 1 o'clock, Monday morning.

When the L. & N. Sunday evening train and the eastbound C. & O. reached this city they were detained until the wreck was cleared away.

FORCED TO STARVE.

B. F. Leek, of Concord, Ky., says: "For 20 years I suffered agonies with a sore on my upper lip, so painful, sometimes, that I could not eat. After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At all druggists. Only 25c.

NO MORE PASSES ON C. & O. R. R.

The C. & O. railroad has notified all the newspapers that there will be no more passes issued over its line.

This won't hurt the newspapers very much, as the space heretofore given the advertisements of the road, taking the year through, amounts to more than has been received in the way of transportation.

Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two-column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual fact to twenty or twenty-five books costing any where from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short-story writers, the best writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's "Reminiscences of Ruler's" Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next twelve months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates, and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

School closed here Friday before Christmas and both teacher and children outdid themselves in the closing exercises. Dialogues by the Misses Dennis and the Misses Richardson and Miss Chambers were very amusing. The rest of the children had speeches and songs. A nice treat of candy, oranges and bananas had been prepared by the loved and popular young teacher, Miss Holder. Music was furnished by Mr. Dorsey Tracy and Mr. Chester Laceyfield.

Mrs. Richardson and daughters entertained one evening last week in honor of the young ladies of the neighborhood. Those present were Miss Emma, Miss Etta and Miss Bessie Dennis, Miss Edith and Miss Lilafred Edge, Miss Jessie, Miss Roberta and Miss Ruby Chambers and Miss Alma Moore.

Mr. Frank Edge, who has been spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, has returned to Kentucky University, where he has been a student for some months.

Misses Carrie and Ley Moore had a very pleasant social Saturday night. All the young people report a very pleasant evening.

Much regret is being expressed over the news that we are likely to lose our very pleasant neighbors, Mr. Magoffin Richardson and family.

Mr. Walter Mitchell and family are expecting to move to town shortly.

Mr. Pet Tracy and family are going to move to Benson shortly.

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden death. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly havoc. You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizure. August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way.

Two sizes, 50c and 75c. All druggists.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS.

This important subject was the topic of conversation at a dinner party only a few days ago. The ifs and ands, why and wherefore, took up much of the time and the conversation, but the main features of the case were relegated to talk, plain and simple. We read in almost every paper something about the rights of the children, and in looking about us, on every hand, we see "these rights" exemplified in manner, style, custom, and superiority of birth, condition and circumstance. The children of the present day have rights—too many of them. Not only do they abuse, but also misuse these privileges, and, in a great measure, consume and waste the blessing of reward which might be of lasting and untold benefit, not alone to the child, but to the community as well. The parents are to blame in almost every instance of too much over-indulgence, and too little restriction in rules of obedience. It is not the fault of the child that he or she refuses to observe the curriculum of home ethics or the superiority of parental supervision.

At this same dining table, etiquette was at a premium. The children had been allowed to reach over and grab whatever each wished, also to call out in language unmistakable for things desired, and it was a question whether the guests would or could survive the blash, unmolested or unreprieved by the pater familias.

But the children were not to blame, and it was with heartfelt sorrow that one of the lookers-on regarded the passing of that old-time custom of quiet and respectful behavior at table, once so well observed—so beautifully recognized in the "days long since."

Fads and fancies of the present day and century have also much to do with children's rights. These impressionists keep before the public these small (?) representatives of society in matters of fashion; in pushing

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

Excess Of Smoking Affected My Heart

So I Had To Sit Up To Breathe.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

There is nothing that has a more deleterious effect upon the cardiac or heart nerves than the excessive use of tobacco. Pain and tenderness about the heart, an oppressive feeling in the chest, closing sensation in the throat, discomfort from sleeping on the left side and smothering spells at night when the sufferer has to sit up in bed to breathe are the most common symptoms of a weak heart. Smokers who feel these symptoms and who do not understand their meaning should be warned in time, by the following experience: I was greatly troubled with an affection of the heart, due I think to excessive smoking. On writing to you for advice I was directed to begin a course of treatment which included Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, together with larding, etc. I faithfully followed the directions given and am pleased to say that my cure is complete and permanent. Before beginning the use of your remedies I was so nervous I could not keep my hands still and suffered greatly from severe pains around the heart. Many times at night I would be forced to assume a sitting posture to get my breath, for the time being it would seem as though my heart had stopped beating. From the splendid results achieved in my case I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Restorative Nerve and other remedies to all sufferers from heart or nervous troubles.—Yours truly, LAJAH HALL, Dothan, Ala.

forward, through newspaper portraits, the sayings, the doings, of Thomas, Richard, or Henry, as the case might be, as well as the coming or going of Elizabeth, or Margaret, or Mary Anna "Maria"—the pretty, accomplished daughter of Mrs. So and So, from the city of Somewhere.

No wonder the children have rights, and with these bequests of handed-down generations—also nerves, present, positive, superlative! The shame of it! Go into any department of child-culture and watch the pathetic movement of eyes, mouth, hands, and feet, presenting a spectacle of serious possibility and probability. The silent personality of the teacher can not, with success, persuade the element of nervous tension to assume a similar condition of her peaceful assurance. The minister has lost control over that unseen, but stupendous force, swaying the small but vigorous body in the congregation; while the body politic looks on and says: "What a nervous child. Just to watch its convolutions make me feel like falling all to pieces." And the poor little unfortunate kicks against the remonstrances of mother, who, in the end, takes him home. The pity of it.

There must be a reason for all these conditions of rights and wrongs; an explanation for the apparent neglect on the part of those who have control of children, in the training of sense-conditions, of thought-observance, of the correct usage of time, money, and expression. One of these reasons is the disregard of diet and eating. Candy, and all kinds of trash is at the pleasure of the child, who will not eat breakfast with any degree of relish, but rushes off to school with empty stomach (as regards proper food), and full of energy which soon develops into positive nervousness, one child contaminating a room full of children, and causing the teacher woe and anguish of spirit.

Another cause for complaint is the question of clothes. Shall the rights of children be questioned on this all-important matter, and can little life be encumbered by the small allowance made for "fuss and feathers." Whose is the fault? When we remember that the "child is father to the man" and some day will be his grandfather, the problem of rights grows to an alarming proportion.

The prisons are full of youth who were permitted to attain manhood without proper regard for, or respect of authority, while the reformatories are crowded with unfiled and equally inmates. The crime rises upon some one—some how—some where, and the fault must be connected either by home rule or legislative laws.

Was that your son who did the hazing act at college? Was that your daughter who embarrassed the faculty as to whether she should or should not be excluded (is this the word?) from examination, and came home without her diploma, when you had spent so much money on her education, and expected better results? Was that your brother who defaulted, and your sister who perished for the proper amount of food and attention from her dissipated helpmate? All these shipwrecks are but the common floodtide of avenging wrath; of human habits grown to abnormal proportions—a menace to the individual; a danger signal to the community; an avenue of crime to the gates of death. Let the rights of the children be respected—give them a place on the roll of progress where each may carve out the line of character-extension, and be subservient to every law of order and obedience.

Teach them at an early age—six weeks is not too early—to cultivate a quiet repose of manner at some time of day (or night), and to partake of food at regular intervals, solid and substantial; to listen attentively and with due reverence when in the presence of older folks. The slangy, flippant manner of the present gum-chewing fashion, ill becomes a well-bred Kentucky boy or girl who have every reason to rejoice, and cause for congratulation, that the State of their birth is renowned for refinement, culture, old-fashioned repose of manner; and delightful home training in anti bellum days, and there is no reason why the children of her children's children shall not rise, in the dignity of a consecrated New Year, and say: By the help of God we will respect our rights.

DYING OF FAMINE

Is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers, of Clearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at all drug stores, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

"A NIGHT IN BOHEMIA."

The second rendition of the operetta, "A Night in Bohemia," given on Saturday night, was, if anything, better given than that of Thursday.

There was another big house of delighted people present.

It was as well rendered as any professional troupe could have done, and far better than many of those on the road could have done.

We desire to congratulate the whole of the management and the performers upon their grand success.

PERFECTION ATTAINED.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, dissipate, while Dr. Williams' Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. W. H. Howell, Houston, Tex., says: "For years I have used Little Early Risers Pills in my family. No better pill can be used for constipation." Sold by J. W. Gayle.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Contrary to the general expectation, the Legislature organized on Tuesday in time to have the Governor's Message read on that day.

The message is a concise and well written document. It deals almost altogether with State affairs. The recommendations are generally sound and for the good of the State.

With the greater part of these recommendations we heartily agree. It is a dignified and able paper, it gives us pleasure to say.

Pleasant to take.

The Famous "Synko Song" Quartette and Dance in the First Act of "San Toy," Tuesday, January 9th.

"SAN TOY" COMING.

This Delightfully Charming Comic Opera Comes to Capital Theatre Next Tuesday, Jan. 9.

Dainty, tuneful and picturesque "San Toy" will be seen here next Tuesday evening, January 9, and there is already an interest manifest in its coming which insures it a rousing reception from playgoers, for as the clever Chinese musical comedy will be offered here by Mr. John C. Fisher, it will have the benefit of an exceptionally strong cast and in the mounting will present stage pictures which, for artistic elegance, have not been equaled in any previous production of musical comedy.

The story of "San Toy" tells how Yen How, a mandarin, to save his daughter from the emperor's harem, rears her as a boy. He succeeds in his deception until the girl, San Toy, falls in love with an English officer, when the secret leaks out and the mandarin is ordered to appear at the Court of Peking and bring the daughter with him. Yen How is in great danger of losing his head, but San Toy captivates the emperor and very speedily becomes the favorite lady of his court. For her sake the emperor spares her father's life and also gives his consent for her marriage to the English soldier, thus causing the final curtain to fall on as agreeable a climax as was ever designed for musical comedy.

It takes some time to tell the pretty story in detail, and there are moments when it looks as though it might be lost altogether in the conglomeration of songs, jokes, dances and magnificent groupings that are introduced, but everything is so tuneful, graceful and generally diverting that no one who sits through the two acts would suggest any curtailment of the time required to tell the pretty story. There are bits of "San Toy" which remind one of "The Geisha" and the "Mikado," but its own attractive features are so numerous no body has time to figure out the points in which it suggests the other plays mentioned.

The score of "San Toy" has twenty-six delightful and original numbers, of which those most in favor with the public are "The Six Little Wives," the "Moon Song," "I Mean to Introduce it Into China," "Little China Maid," "Rhoda and Her Pagoda," "Chinese Sojer Man," and a whole lot more. The play is filled to repletion with solos, duets, quartettes and other concerted numbers, every one of which is clever enough to win encores. Mr. Fisher has given "San Toy" a setting which is strictly in keeping with the superiority of the cast he has furnished. Every costume used with the play is new; the scenery is also fresh from the studios and in every little detail there has been the closest attention in order to get the best possible results.

"San Toy" ran for over two years in London to crowded houses and remained in New York for an entire year. Mr. Fisher's present plan is to present it on the road for the first few months of the season and then open in New York for another run during the winter. In the cities that have already been visited the play has made a tremendous hit. The company numbers over fifty people, including the famous Daily Theatre Chorus and dancers.

OBITUARY.

The sad death of Mr. Charley Hunter, aged 37, who died of pneumonia, on Friday, December 29, 1905. The death angel knocked again at the door of Mr. John Hunter, and called away his son. He had been employed for some time in the store of Bird Tutts as a helper and clerk. His death was due to exposure of driving a wagon to Frankfort in bad weather, as he had pneumonia at this time last winter. He was sick only the short time of seven days, when the end came. He was unmarried and had always stayed at home with his parents. He was a straight, honest and sober man, and was always ready to lend a helping hand to those that were sick or in distress. He leaves a father and mother, two brothers and six sisters, besides a large circle of friends to mourn his death.

His body now sleeps beneath the sod, while his soul is resting in heaven with God.

SURPRISE FOR FLOCK.

Rev. Dr. J. McClusky Blayney signs Care of First Presbyterian Church.

On Sunday morning last, at the conclusion of the service Rev. Dr. J. McClusky Blayney, the pastor, read a statement to the congregation, giving a history of the church in brief for the last twenty-two years, and, as its conclusion, stated that he had placed his resignation in the hands of the Session.

The action of Dr. Blayney came like a clap of thunder out of a clear sky to the congregation, and when the audience left the house it was more like withdrawing from a funeral than a regular Sunday service. Dr. Blayney will withdraw from the active work of the ministry after a long and successful career. He carries with him into retirement the respect, confidence and love of a wide circle of friends and admirers.

We give below the statement read by Dr. Blayney:

To the Congregation of the First Presbyterian Church:

Twenty-two years ago to-day the first sermon of the present pastorate was preached in this pulpit. The occasion furnished a fitting time for some reflections retrospective and prospective. Coming as a passing visitor to the city during the holidays of 1888, I found that this church had been without a pastor for two years, was disorganized and discouraged, and facing division. At the earnest solicitation of the Session I agreed to act for the time being as a supply, which resulted in my settlement as pastor the following spring of 1889.

In looking over the records of the church I find that some of the most distinguished men of our whole denomination in the past have served as pastors here, and noted revivalists have at times held special services resulting in large accessions to the membership.

The term of service of the ministers in the past has been short. Taking all pastors and supplies from the organization of the church to the beginning of the present pastorate, the term of service for each averaged 4.7 years.

The additions to the church, under the principal pastorate, average per year as follows: Rev. Dr. Eli Smith, 6.4 per year; Rev. Dr. John T. Edgar, 2.3; Dr. Daniel Baker, 2; Dr. J. J. Bullock, 16.3; Dr. Stuart Robinson, 19.1; Dr. B. T. Lacy, 17.2; Dr. John S. Hays, 21.1; Dr. John H. Nesbit, 16.2; Dr. J. W. Pugh, 18.5.

During the present pastorate the additions have been 67—over 30 per year for the twenty-two years. Taking the equal period immediately preceding, the additions averaged 16.4 per year. The additions for the last five years have been larger than any previous five years in the history of the church, excepting the period of the Mills meetings which was a community movement. The church membership now is more than double what it was at the beginning of the present pastorate.

During the past twenty-two years the church has raised for all purposes $181,258, about one-third of which was for benevolent objects outside our own church. During the preceding twenty-two years it raised for all purposes $63,124. The amount raised for all purposes the last five years was $90,264, the most ever raised in an equal period in the history of the church, excepting a few years ago when extraordinary funds were collected to pay a debt.

The statistics are significant, and of public interest, as throwing light on the mooted question of the comparative merits of the long pastorate and regular church ordinances, or frequent changes and spasmodic efforts. The enlarged efficiency of the work of this church the past twenty-two years has been the outcome of the ordinary church services and most conservative pulpit methods. On two or three occasions in recent years some of the most highly recommended revivalists have been secured, but their efforts proved fruitless.

The work that this church has accomplished the past twenty-two years has been done under unfavorable circumstances. There have been unusual political upheavals and great public agitation absorbing the attention of the community and engendering bitterness of feeling.

Then there has been our own denominational differences, resulting in two Presbyterian churches, dividing the incoming Presbyterian population and narrowing the field for work. Had there been but one organization of our denomination here the past twenty years, with affiliation either North or South, it is safe to say it would have been at the present time one of the largest and most influential in the State. Divided into two camps Presbyterianism in the capital city of Kentucky is heavily handicapped. I have not a word

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist in the manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes sallow and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, of whose ingredients all who have the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request, therefore by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. C. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommendations of them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has the name of Dr. Pierce on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

of criticism for local conditions. They are, as naturally they may be expected to be, so long as division continues in the Church at large. The same evil exists throughout all the border States, which, if removed, would release whole Presbyteries and Synods of men, and the money to sustain them, to go forward and supply the destitute places in our own and other lands. Such a waste of ministerial forces and church funds is a crime against the Great Head of the Church, is alien to the spirit of the times, and calls mightily for remedy.

I desire to express my profound appreciation of the uniform courtesy and cordiality with which the people of this church, without exception, have treated me all these years. It would be too much to assume that there have not been differences of opinions, judgments and preferences. In the meetings of the session and of the congregation, I can not recall that there has been a divided vote in the whole twenty-two years. This is a remarkable record, and constitutes a high testimonial to the harmony, charity and Christian culture of this people.

It goes without saying that a voice that has been heard several times a week for twenty-two years must become a very old song, and people who have patiently listened to it so long may well be considered as entitled to relief. In view of the healthful condition of the church at the present time, as shown by all the tests of official figures, it does not seem likely that a more favorable time can be expected in which to make a change of pastoral relation.

I, therefore, now put into the hands of the Session my resignation of the pastorate of this church. The resignation is absolute, only conditional as to the time when it shall go into effect. I am under no bonds to any one but to Presbytery. It is my intention to withdraw from the active work of the ministry. It would be agreeable to me to be promptly released, but if it may be thought unwise to leave the pulpit vacant during the winter, I shall only ask that Session take steps to have a congregational meeting called some time before the spring meeting of Presbytery to join in this request for the dissolution of the pastoral relation at that time. Meanwhile the pulpit will be at the service of the Session to invite any one they may wish to hear to occupy it. (Signed)

PROMOTED.

Mr. J. R. Catlett, of the Princeton Leader, Princeton, who was an attaché of the Senate four years ago, was raised a peg or two this time by special resolution, being elected "Bill Clerk," having in charge all the bills printed for the Senate. This simplifies matters, as heretofore, there was divided responsibility, and, as a consequence, it was hard to keep track of the bills.

Mr. Catlett is a clever and accommodating gentleman, and we congratulate him upon his promotion.

PLANKS UP THE CASH.

Col. Davie, of the L. & N. R. R. Co., came here on Wednesday and went to the Express Co.'s office and took out two money packages, one containing $13,650 and the other $12,500. The larger one he delivered to the heirs of the late Mr. L. Tobin, being the price agreed upon for the Saratoga Restaurant and the Howser Saloon, on Ann street. The other was tendered to the representative of the Sullivan heirs. After the rejection of the tender Col. Davie delivered the money to the proper officer of the Franklin Circuit Court, and a request made for a commissioner's deed to the property, as allowed by law. The proper deed was made to the L. & N. R. R. by the Tobin heirs.

Work will at once be begun upon the new depot of the railroad company. Of course the occupants of the buildings will be allowed a suitable time in which to vacate the property purchased by the company.

At last we will have the new depot.

SOOTHING AND COMFORTING.

The soothing and comforting effects of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to piles, sores, cuts, boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly. This salve draws out the inflammation, reduces swelling and acts as a rubefacient, thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts, permitting or aiding nature to permanently remove the trouble entirely. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

LITTLE GIRL SHOT.

A little girl by the name of Lizzie Conway, daughter of Mr. Ben Conway, of the West Side, pulled open a drawer in a dresser, on Wednesday, and drew out some clothing on which a revolver was lying. When the gun struck the floor it exploded shooting the little one just under the eye, the ball lodging in the neck.

Mrs. Minish and Goodrich were called and dressed the wound, which is a serious one.

One Minute Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough so long that it has proven itself to be a tried and true friend to the many who used it. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

FIRE MONDAY MORNING.

An alarm from No. 3 called the fire boys to the Violet building. Monday morning, where an iron hearth in the office of Messrs. Greene & VanWinkle had set fire to the woodwork. It was extinguished with a loss of some $50.

THE DIAMOND CURE.

The latest news from Paris is that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanleer, Tenn.: "I had a cough, for fourteen years. Nothing helped me until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequaled quick cure for Throat and Lung Troubles. At all drug stores. Price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

ALWAYS INCREASES THE STRENGTH.

A reasonable amount of food thoroughly digested and properly assimilated will always increase the strength. If your stomach is "little off" Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat and enable the digestive organs to assimilate and transform all foods into tissue building blood. Kodol relieves sour stomach, belching, heartburn and all forms of indigestion. Pleasant and strengthening. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

HOWARD CASE AFFIRMED.

In the U. S. Supreme Court, on Tuesday, Justice McKenna handed down a decision in the appeal of James H. Howard, accused of the assassination of Senator Goebel, in which that court held that there was no violation of the 14th amendment to the Constitution in the circuit court discharging juror J. C. Alexander after he had been accepted, thus affirming the life sentence of Howard.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Robt. L. Stout called the January term of circuit court to order on Monday morning. His charge to the grand jury was searching and straight from the shoulder. If heeded it should be productive of much good.

The following gentlemen compose the grand jury: A. W. Leitch, foreman; W. T. Eubanks, C. W. Mandeville, R. L. Kirk, W. T. Saera, David Moore, Thos. Black, J. H. Thomas, W. T. Wash, Jas. P. Epfar, F. C. Hutchison.

The following gentlemen compose the petit jury:

Jury No. 1—Walker Quire, Coleman Carr, Wade Triplett, W. A. Powers, Howard Bailey, Milton Arnold, Wyatt Phillips, Jesse Riddell, George Conway, W. B. George, Robert Harrod, Elsie Tracey.

Jury No. 2—Edward Sheets, James Roberts, James Smith, Elias Barbour, G. W. Hoover, Amelia Robinson, Robert Howe, Ed. Bacon, John Newman, Sam Cogswell, S. M. Shields, Sam A. Parent.

INDIGESTION OVERCOME.

Indigestion is easily overcome by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, because this remedy digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest—allows it to recuperate and grow strong again. Kodol relieves indigestion, belching of gas, sour stomach, heartburn, etc., and enables the digestive organs to transform all foods into the kind of rich red blood that makes health and strength. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

A SPLENDID ADDRESS.

The address of Col. Geo. W. Bain, of Lexington, at the Opera House, on Sunday afternoon, was a splendid piece of pathos and oratory. He took as his theme "What I Would Do If I Had My Life to Live Over Again." Col. Bain was at his best and the large crowd of men present were simply delighted with his delineation of his past life and his statement of what he would do had he a chance to live his life over again.

COUNTRY PROPERTY BURNED.

The country store of Mr. J. J. Market, at Elmora, four miles out on the Lawrenceburg pike, caught fire on Friday night last, and, together with the dwelling house, was totally destroyed.

Mr. Market has only purchased the property a few months ago, having come here from Pendleton county.

The origin of the fire is supposed to be from a defective flue.

The loss amounted to several thousand dollars.

BENT HER DOUBLE.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "but when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney disorders. At all drug stores. Price 50c.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

On Saturday last Mr. John E. Miles, the flour merchant, was so unfortunate as to have a pile of sacked flour fall on him while alone in his store, pinning him to the floor. He was found shortly afterwards and extricated from his dangerous position.

Surgeons were called who had Mr. Miles taken to the King's Daughters Hospital, where it was found that his right hip was dislocated. It was feared, at first, that his leg was broken.

The dislocation was reduced and he is doing as well as could be expected for one of his age (75 years).

Mrs. Miles had only a few days before gone to Florida for the benefit of her health, which is poor.

The sympathy of many friends is felt for Mr. Miles in his trouble.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, who the rich patient can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger in the dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those that use German Syrup. Trial bottle 25c; regular size, 75c. At all drug stores. 1 vr.

"Only Taking Cold!"

Was the way the boy explained when he was caught stealing ice. There are a good many people taking cold in the proper sense in these days. If colds are neglected the result will perhaps be serious throat or lung trouble.

A STITCH IN TIME.

Don't take chances. It's so easy to cure a cold or cough in the start, and so hard to cure when deeply seated. We want to urge you to keep a bottle of Gayle's White Pine Expectant in the house. It's a remedy that can always be depended on for the cure of coughs and colds. Price, 25 cents.
